

AP GOV
What to do over Winter Break?

1. Clean out and store your AP US GOV packets, handouts, homework assignments and organize them for our AP Review in April/May. Put Patterson in a save place!
2. Get a new notebook and binder to keep your AP Comparative materials for 2nd semester.
3. Please update your email in Edline. We will be using Edline for a discussion blog starting in January!
4. Find your Hauss book. We will start in January with a review of Ch. 1. (If you want to get ahead, reread that chapter.)
5. 3rd Q Extra Credit: Read one of the following books: Red China Blues by Jan Wong, Honeymoon in Tehran by Azadeh Moaveni OR A Swamp Full of Dollars by Micheal Peel . There will be a list of discussion questions posted to Edline. You will need to read and annotate the entire book, plus answer the discussion questions. In-text annotations or sticky notes in the book are required. There will be a limited number of spots per book, so all three books can be discussed in class. Sign-up early! MAX of 3% points onto your 3rd Q grade for following all the requirements. Due in mid-February. Many of these books can be found used on Amazon for as little as $1.00.
6. Start to follow our 6 Comparative Countries in the news: Great Britain and the EU, Russia, China, Iran, Mexico and Nigeria.
7. Relax, rest and spend some quality time with your family. Enjoy your break!

AP GOV
What to do over Winter Break?

1. Clean out and store your AP US GOV packets, handouts, homework assignments and organize them for our AP Review in April/May. Put Patterson in a save place!
2. Get a new notebook and binder to keep your AP Comparative materials for 2nd semester.
3. Please update your email in Edline. We will be using Edline for a discussion blog starting in January!
4. Find your Hauss book. We will start in January with a review of Ch. 1. (If you want to get ahead, reread that chapter.)
5. 3rd Q Extra Credit: Read one of the following books: Red China Blues by Jan Wong, Honeymoon in Tehran by Azadeh Moaveni OR A Swamp Full of Dollars by Micheal Peel . There will be a list of discussion questions posted to Edline. You will need to read and annotate the entire book, plus answer the discussion questions. In-text annotations or sticky notes in the book are required. There will be a limited number of spots per book, so all three books can be discussed in class. Sign-up early! MAX of 3% points onto your 3rd Q grade for following all the requirements. Due in mid-February. Many of these books can be found used on Amazon for as little as $1.00.
6. Start to follow our 6 Comparative Countries in the news: Great Britain and the EU, Russia, China, Iran, Mexico and Nigeria.
7. Relax, rest and spend some quality time with your family. Enjoy your break!

